A New Year With New Faces

This year brought a new look to the faculty of Manassas Park High School. There were many new teachers to arrive this year, and some new courses.

The year got off to a good start with a winning football season and a spirited homecoming week.

Homecoming brought some different and new days that added to the spirit of the week even more. That week everyone seemed to get in the act.

Coping With The Changes

Darrell Fritter works on an assignment for the Publications class.

Lisa Hudson comes back from an enjoyable session of driving.

Kim Howell turns as she hears the approach of the marching band.

What a beautiful day for a quiet stroll through memory lane.

When the students returned to school, they found that many changes had occurred in the school. Old teachers had left before students had the chance to say their good-byes and last year's vice-principal had become this year's principal. A new vice-principal and many new teachers, including a new librarian, were added to the rank-and-file.

Two new classes, Oceanography and Computer Programming, were added to the curriculum, and Chemistry was replaced by Physics. More students had to ride to Osbourn High School this year because most of the language and science classes were moved over there.

The old smoking lounge was replaced by a new fenced-off gravelled area with two picnic benches. The marching band got new uniforms and the library acquired seven new computers. A parking and maneuvering area was marked off for the students taking driver education, and the lockers in the locker rooms were unbent and fixed. And for the first time, an outside senior lounge was set up between the 200 and 300 wings, but that only lasted for about two weeks.

Freda Metz plays her heart out for the cougars.

Our Spirit Will Never Die

Jay Burke is down, but never out.

The Seniors show their superior spirit at the pep rallies.

The Freshmen cheer the Cougars on to victory.

Dressing up for school functions is just one of the many ways that Chrissy Proffitt shows her school spirit.

Dr. Greig supports the school at the football games.

The spirit of Manassas Park High School is outstanding and exceeds that of the surrounding schools by far. Not only during homecoming week are we spirited, but also during the rest of the year. Our school spirit shines through at our football and basketball games, track meets, band concerts, and especially our pep rallies. Even our teachers are spirited and actively take part in school activities. Each of us, in our own way, is proud to be able to say, "I go to Manassas Park High School."

The Marching Cougars strut their stuff.

Let's hear it for the Junior spirit, Go! Fight! Win!

BREAKING THE MONOTONY

Programmer Mike Harber stops for a minute to make sure he's doing the program right.

Roger Forsche concentrates on a project in industrial arts.

Tammy Davis checks out what's going on around her before getting a Coke.

On a cold morning, Jack Keller and Doris Shipe start their day with a smoke and a Coke.

Alice Moore and Sandy Duvall check out an interesting article.

Bonnie Martin and Beth Mullins have fun as they work in art class.

Warming up for practice, Robert Dillinger and Matt McBride check over their tunes.

Classes, books, paper, and pens occupy only a fraction of the average student's school life. When not indulging in scholarly matters the students take part in the school's many recreational facilities, such as playing with the computers during lunch or just reading an interesting magazine in the library.

Let's face it! School can be awfully monotonous. So, to break this monotony the students find interesting things to do during their breaks.

During lunch the students enjoy the talk in the smoking area and the Seniors enjoy the camaraderie in the Senior Lounge. Clubs, Pep Rallies, and sports help to make the day more interesting, as do Jay Burke's morning announcements and Dr. Greig's memos.

Every day something happens to make that day a little bit more bearable. For some, getting into trouble is the best way to break up the day. For others, all they can hope for is that a train delays their bus trip back from Osbourn.

THE THREE R'S

READING

ARITHMETIC

When the students can find nothing else to do, they stay in their classrooms. The classes at the high school range from the required courses such as English, Math, and History to the more particular courses such as Cosmetology, Foreign Languages, and Distributive Education. Our high school provides courses for both the academically minded student and the vocationally minded student. The guidance counselors are a great help to students trying to decide on a career and the teachers at the high school double up as friends. It is easy to see why our high school was cited for its excellent atmosphere. It is truly a fun place to learn.

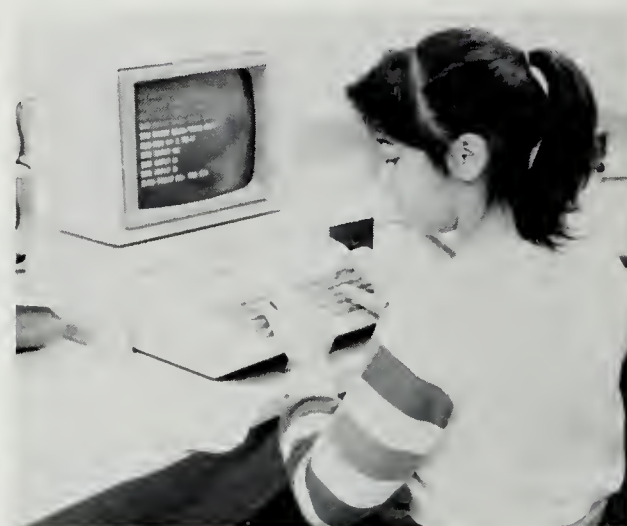

Yolanda Shrout practices on her mannikin head.

Dawn Brown, Gail Valdez and Lucille Williams talk to Mrs. Rushdi about old times.

Concentrating in individual projects, the art students show their creativity.

More room in the new computer room gives Yvonne Romero more room to work on her project.

GLORIA LEE
Senior Homecoming

The Senior activities for this year started with the float parties at some of the seniors' houses during Homecoming Week. The money for these parties and the float materials came from lollypop and cookie sales. There was a letdown at the beginning of the year when the Senior Trip was not given the consent of the school.

Even with this cancellation the senior spirit wasn't broken. The class won the hall decorations competition and they were also awarded the spirit stick at the Pep Rally, all during Homecoming. Despite a great effort, the powder puff football score remained 0-0.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

JUNIORS

The Making of a Prom

The Junior class officers spent most of their eleventh year in school preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom. This annual event sent them into a frenzy, as it has most Juniors in the previous years.

Their main concern was raising enough money to put on a good Prom. The class fund was enlarged by the sale of jewelry, doughnuts, spirit links and tickets for the Powder Puff game.

Besides fundraising, many big decisions had to be made. The officers and involved classmates spent many hours in meetings choosing the prom theme, colors, song, decorations, band, and the list goes on.

Their hard work paid off in the long run. The results, an enjoyable evening.

Homecoming: The Long and Short of it.

Homecoming ... a grueling week of competition came to an end leaving the Juniors in fourth place. Using the Walt Disney characters Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs the class put a lot of effort into their hall and float decorations.

Powder Puff was the event they most looked forward to, this being their first time playing. Everyone agreed that the role reversal was great but the game didn't last long enough. The game ended with the Juniors and Seniors at a "zip" score.

The Annual Homecoming Parade gives students a chance to show off their hard work and school spirit to the citizens of Manassas Park.

Busy Prepping for the Working World

Bus-y (bĭz'ē) adj. -ier, -iest. 1. Actively engaged in some form of work. 2. Crowded with activity. Work (wŭrk) n. 1. Effort directed toward the production or accomplishment of something; toil; labor. 2. A trade, craft, business, or profession. 3. A duty or task. 4. Something that has been produced as a result of effort.

This year many career oriented Juniors took vocational and business courses. With one year left of high school it was a good time to test possible future careers before entering the world of full time employment.

Looking Forward . . .

When asked "What do you look forward to next year?" most Juniors' response was graduating. Turning eighteen and having more freedom was another popular answer. Many Juniors anticipate using the Senior Lounge, playing sports, and being finished with a lot of the required courses.

While relaxing in the library Rhonda Propst keeps up with the antics of Garfield.

The Sophomore Class got off to a great start this year. They began by really getting involved with the activities of Homecoming week.

Class participation helped them take first place for the dress-up days. A lot of planning and hard work helped them take first place in the float competition.

The class officers organized a couple fundraisers so that they would have an edge on next year's events. They sold spirit ribbons and refreshments during exam breaks.

As one Sophomore stated, "The Class of '86 has big plans for the future so watch out MPHS, here we come!"

Behind the Wheel

Conscientious Sophomores realize the responsibilities of driving. In a recent poll Sophomores listed what they felt were their main responsibilities: not driving under influence, driving defensively, obtaining insurance, obeying traffic laws and watching out for pedestrians. While fulfilling these responsibilities Sophomores also enjoy the benefits of driving: being independent, helping their families, and going out with friends.

The band "New Breed" provided the tunes for the Homecoming Dance.

The most listened to radio station among the Sophomores was 105 WAVA. This station went through a major change this year. Widely known as a hard rock station or better yet as their old motto stated "WAVA Rocks the Nation" they are now known for playing the Top 40 hits. The second most listened to radio station was DC 101, the sole survivor of hard rock. 93 WKYS came in third as a popular station.

Love in the Afternoon

General Hospital, All My Children and One Life to Live were just a few of the most watched soap operas by some of the Sophomores. When asked "Why do you watch soaps?" the same answer kept popping up, "because for the hour or half hour that it's on you can forget about your own problems and get caught up in the characters'." Other reasons for watching soaps was to sit down and unwind after school and because they're interesting.

Waiting for the bell to ring Lisa Keen converses with her classmates.

Challenging and Exciting

In the midst of fundraisers, bake sales, and candy sales, Freshmen find high school both challenging and exciting.

Polled Freshmen found classwork, exams, and peer pressure the most challenging obstacles during their first year in high school.

On the other hand, Freshmen felt that leaving Middle school opened doors of independence. Getting involved in their choice of high school sports and activities was a big step toward asserting their independence. As one student remarked, "Starting high school was like coming to a new school."

For this being their first Homecoming the Freshmen class did a great job keeping up with the competition.

The Freshmen took first place on 50's dress up day and Hat Day. They came in second on Jock and Black and Gold day.

With the theme Jungle Book the Freshmen took second place for their hall decorations and fourth place for their float.

Raising quite a ruckus at the pep rally the Freshmen again took second place.

For the overall week the Freshmen took second place, not bad for beginners!

ORGANIZATIONS

Top — President Kevin Bailey talks to Ms. Taylor about a dance coming up.

SGA and NHS get new sponsors.

The biggest change this year in SGA was its organization, which led to other changes. This year there weren't Homeroom representatives, but SGA was made up of class officers and club officers. SGA's big activity for the year was Homecoming. The SGA did most of the work by setting up the rules, doing all the organizing and sponsoring the dance after the game. They also organized the halftime show.

Another activity they did was Operation Turkey, a canned food drive for Thanksgiving. At Christmas time they had a door decorating contest.

The SGA also planned to have another dance and blood drive.

This year not many demands were made by clubs asking for days for activities. The clubs have not been very active because of their late start which has created a lack of interest.

The Student Government is what the students make it.

The National Honor Society did not start until January. At that time they started filling out forms for scholarships.

National Honor Society is made up of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors who are eligible.

Students are selected by a faculty council.

Right — Patty Lee writes up an article after interviewing a teacher.

This year the Yearbook was a turnover. The staff started out with a new sponsor, Ms. Davin. They also got a new company. More than half of the staff was new and everything was different for the old students.

This year MPHS has an "all new" newspaper. The name has been changed to Cougar Journal instead of last year's name, the Cougar Chronicle. The paper is free of charge to the student body and is paid for by MPHS. The newspaper, for the first time, has been considered a class to all interested students. This class is combined with the yearbook. With up-to-date news stories, feature articles, editorials, and many other newsworthy items, the newspaper has been a great success. Under a new sponsor, Ms. Davin, and a new Editor, Darrell Fritter, and a staff of 15 people and growing, the issues of the newspaper can be considered MPHS Cougar classics.

Right — Mike Bryant uses the machine with care.

Bottom — Robby Bailey and Roy Weeks work on the racing car they're making.

The Art Club got off to an early start but got slowed down because the sponsor, Mrs. Knestrick, had a baby. The club started out by having fundraisers and doughnut sales to raise money. The club went on a field trip at the end of the year to D.C. with their money.

The officers this year are: Pres. — Lavonne Woodard, V. Pres. — Joey Dolansky, Treas. — Chris

Martin, Sec. — Patti Lucas, Parl. — David Poarch.

The American Industrial Arts Students Association is sponsored by Mr. Money. This year the club is doing projects that interest the students. All of the members have to be in Industrial Arts or have had at least one year of Industrial Arts.

TACC makes its first appearance.

The Drama Club is a new club that got off to an early start. The first play was A Hillbilly Christmas. They performed it for a Christmas program during school. The choir and band performed with the Drama Club. They also started off with a bake sale, in early November.

Another play was The Storm, which was about a man who was involved in a car accident in which he killed a woman and child.

The other play was A Date For Bobby Socks, which is a comedy about a girl who goes out and comes in late because of all these things that happened. When she gets in, no one is home.

FHA and Library

The goal of FHA/HERO is to help its members assume their roles in society, through home economic education, in areas of personal growth, family life, vocation preparation, and community involvement.

The officers this year are President — Shelia Ragan, Vice President — Melissa Stewart, Secretary — Norma Lanham, Treasurer — Randy Pearson, Historian — Bernice Alsberry.

The Library Club is not a regular club, it doesn't meet as a whole group. The Library Club is made up of library aides which the library couldn't operate without. They circulate over 5,000 books a year. The aides not only shelf books, but also cut out magazine clippings, write overdues, straighten shelves, file back issues of magazines, and run errands.

Mrs. Dyess is a new sponsor and plans to make it more like a club next year. This year's library aides are Matt McBride, Mike Hazlett, Kim Moore, Sergio Sanchez, Mike Mauck, Tom Jones, Keri Bandy, and John Howell.

Bottom Right — Angie Quinn and Dawn Houser have been chosen for Districts.

The MPHS Band and Choir are making a name for the school.

Concert Choir started the school year with thirteen students enrolled for class. In addition to these students, six people rehearsed once a week after school so they could join in our first concert on December 4. Dawn Houser and Angie Quinn were selected to participate in the Regional Chorus Festival at Fauquier High School on February 10 and 11.

This year's Band program has been very successful. Under the direction of Mr. Alan Freeman the Concert Band, Jazz Band, and Marching Band have had an eventful year. The Concert Band's schedule has been filled with Fall, Christmas, Spring and Winter concerts. The traditional exchange trip, which was held with J.I. Burton High School, highlighted the band's successful year.

The Jazz Band, under the new name "Jazzmanian Devils," put on exciting performances for audiences.

The Manassas Park High School Cougar Marching Band has become one of the finest marching bands in the area. Starting out with the tedious Marching Band Camp which was held in August, the Band has played at many parades this year. The Marching Band won second place and the Flag Corps third place in the Front Royal Parade. The Marching Band has also performed exciting halftime shows. To top off the year the Marching Cougars marched in the annual Apple Blossom Parade held in Winchester, Virginia on May 5.

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) is designed to complement and enrich the development of occupational competence for careers in marketing and distribution; to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free enterprise system; and to provide an avenue for leadership and self development. DECA strives to achieve its purposes by encouraging student participation in competitive events, sales projects, officer training and social activities (Employer-Employee Banquet). In addition, the program helps students better understand the dignity of work and the responsibilities that accompany employment, thus, developing future business leaders in marketing and distribution.

Officers: President — Doris Shipe, V. President — Teri Testerman, Secretary — Cindy Hatfield, Treasurer — Tammy Milbourne, Reporter — Beth Mullins.

The Good News Club started off with no sponsor this year. But after asking several teachers, all of whom had responsibilities and could not sponsor the club, Mrs. Pinckard agreed to take over as the sponsor.

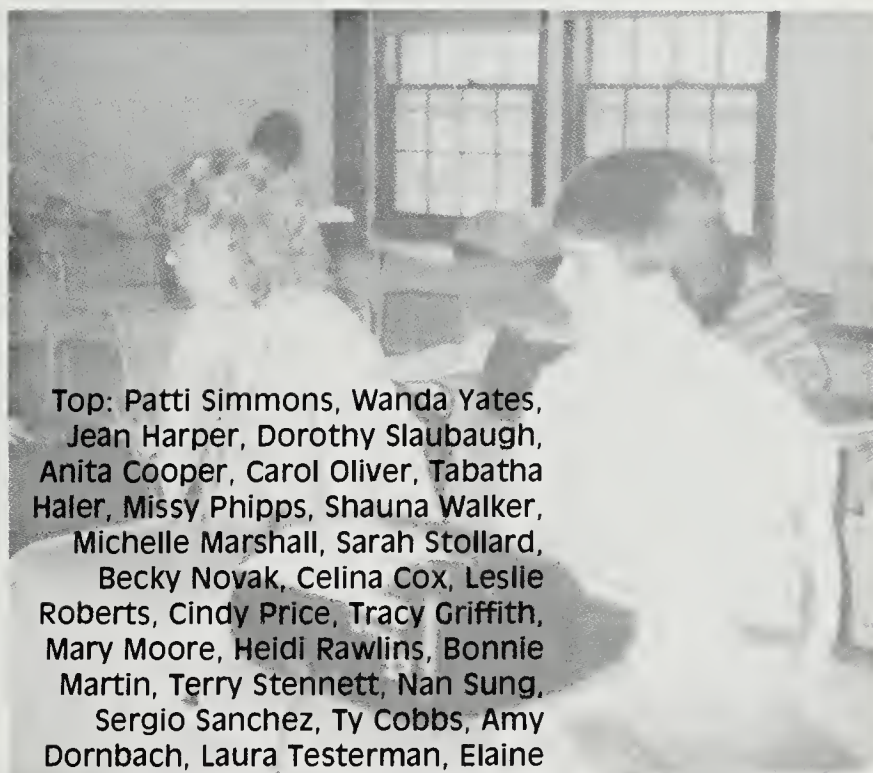

The club was to meet after school and that presented a problem for some students in the Good News Club. The club was able to get enough students together to bake cookies after school for Christmas gifts for the entire school. The students in the club stayed after several days to bake, wrap, and make tags. The officers are President — Keri Bandy, Vice President — Kelly Johnson, Secretary — Beth Mullins, and Treasurer — John Howell.

The Science Club is an academic club, but like the other clubs it got a late start this year. The Science Club had many speakers come to the library, where they met at night. The club met then because the officers worked right after school. The club planned to go to Goddard Space Flight Center and science seminars. They also planned a trip to D.C to the Air and Space Museum at the Smithsonian. This year's sponsor is Mr. Shirkey and the officers are: President — Kelly Price, Vice-President — Becky Bates, Secretary — Sherry Hooker, Treasurer — Debbie Bates.

The Future Business Leaders of America is a club which is sponsored by Mrs. Waggoner this year. To be a member of this club you must be in either a typing class or some type of business course. The club had a speaker from IBM come to school and also they went on a tour of IBM. The club also sold candy sticks as a fundraiser this year.

PHILOSOPHY AND SKI CLUBS

To philosophize is to wonder about life — about right and wrong, love and loneliness, war and death, about freedom, truth, beauty, time . . . and a thousand other things. To philosophize is to explore life. It means breaking free to ask questions. It means resisting easy answers. To philosophize is to seek in oneself the courage to ask painful questions. But if, by chance, you have already asked all your questions and found all the answers — if you're sure you know right from wrong, and whether God exists, and what justice means, and why men fear and hate and pray — if indeed you have done your wondering about freedom and love and loneliness and those thousand other things, then these pages will waste your time. Philosophy is for those who are willing to be disturbed with a creative disturbance. Philosophy is for those who still have the capacity for wonder.

SKI CLUB: Darrell Fritter, Frank Harmon, Chrissy Proffitt, Tammy Davis, Patti Lucas, Missy Hensley, 2nd — Mr. Money, David Ragan, Yvonne Kirk, Bonnie Lipps, Lynnette Raistrick, Missy Phipps. 3rd — Kirk Smith, Robert Dillinger, Mike Bryant, John Pumphries, Glenn Bruce, Ronnie Brown, 4th — Shane Simmons, Tina Bartlett, Cindy Hicks, Anne Powers, Teri Stinnett, Christina Luong, Lee Shrout, 5th — Patti Simmons, Shirley Monroe, Kim Farmer, Tammy Peacoe, Jack Martin.

The SKI Club is basically about going skiing, and you can learn how to ski. With the Ski Club you not only learn something, but you also have a good time. The group went skiing at Ski Liberty. This is the fourth year and the club has doubled in size.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Michele Weikle, Michelle Gray, and mascot Jamie Weikle are ready to go!

Don't let the face fool you! Cheryl Cornwell is just cold.

Trying to cheer and not miss a play, Michelle Gray watches for a Cougar score.

Our varsity cheerleaders worked hard this year practicing three times a week after school for about two hours each day. "I think they're pretty terrific," says Mrs. Fewell, head sponsor of this year's varsity cheerleaders. The cheerleaders work hard to please the school and to cheer for the teams. "They get no recognition," says Mrs. Fewell. "It's like they're not even there." They should be noticed and appreciated but she's still proud of them.

"The squad," states Mrs. Fewell, "is a whole lot better than last year. They get along better and learned to work things out." They had several fundraisers such as bake sales, selling buttons and ribbons, and they also had a bazaar on November 5. The squad plans (and hopes) to be bigger and better next year.

"Cheerleading is fun," says Michele Weikle. "You get to meet a lot of people and enjoy yourself all year." Michele's goals for the year are to be the best she can be and help others do the same. Cheerleading may be tough, but it's worth it.

Flag Corps Shows Lots of Style

Norma Lanham and Susan Smith add a big finish to the routine.

This year's flag corps has performed well in their half-time routines. Participating in flag corps is a challenge. It requires practice, time and hard work. This year's flag corps has had great routines and the members have worked hard to produce them.

Captains this year are Sandy Morris and Robin Marks. Both have returned from last year's squad. The squad received new uniforms and flags this year. They raised money to pay for these by selling pizza kits and having car washes. The band participated in these fundraisers and in return received new band uniforms also.

The Funeral

Helps confirm the reality and the finality of death. Provides a climate for mourning and the expression of grief. Allows the sorrows of one to become the sorrows of many. Is one of the few times love is given and not expected in return. Is a vehicle for the community to pay its respects. Encourages the affirmation of religious faith. Is a declaration that a life has been lived as well as a sociological statement that a death has occurred.
